

Our Voice

Dear readers, We are glad to show you our new creature. We decided to change the layout

OUR OWN CHALLENGE

Layout of this Newspaper In order to give more opportunity to speak to all

Also to those guys who, like us, want to change the things and make them better!

FREE TO THINK

Let me come back where everything can be imagined,
Where nothing has a price,
A limit,
A measure.
Give me the imagination of children, the memory of the old, the hunger of the poor, the desire of the Lovers,
The time of the rocks,
The shape of the water.
Let me live the impossible

As most of you know, the school has decided that from next year we'll have school in the afternoon. It means that the lessons will be 50 minutes long but we'll have six hours everyday. On Saturday the activities won't be obligatory. We listened to some students

FULL-TIME SCHOOL, ANYONE?

- Guglielmo Wancolle(IV GN): I think it's a nice idea but it must be accepted by all the students. I think I will participate.

- Fabrizio Costanzo (IV GN) :I think that every student and teacher should Say what they really think about this rouble and decide democratically.

- Ferdinando Torrisi(I SC): Well, I'm not so happy but I think we'll have to accept!!!

IT WAS JUST A DREAM...?

It was 10 at night and like every day Lara was sat cross-legged on her sofa jotting down her thoughts on a piece of paper and listening to the latest hits on the radio humming along cheerfully.

Lara was an attractive blond-haired greenish-eyed girl who in her spare time, enjoyed chatting with friends, reading and dreaming and imaginig how her life would have been if something had been different. At school, although she had lots of friends, she used to spend her break alone making notes in her diary...What had she been writing? Nobody knew and it was becoming the mystery of the school. Each schoolmate tried to find out even a word but nothing...she kept her diary locked! When she was 2 her father had run away and the only thing Lara had really desired since that moment was to meet him even for the last time. Waiting for that moment she had been writing letters to him; she had jotted down everything and everywhere in the morning, in the evening, at home.

Review of: "Into The Wild" by Jon Krakauer

Into The Wild, by Jon Krakauer, is the biographical depiction of the events that led to Chris McCandles's departure and all the adventures he had along the way. Krakauer had a tough job in getting this book done. It all started when he heard the story of Krakauer's body being found in Alaska, inside a bus where he had apparently died of starvation. Krakauer put together a 9,000 word article on the subject and little did he know what chain of events would start. This is a fantastic book, full of research and quotes from other books. The route he took across the country, the people he met, the odd jobs he picked up...all of it is described and depicted in a highly enjoyable way.

"There is a pleasure in the pathless woods" by Lord Byron

*"There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is a rapture on the lonely shore,
There is society, where none intrudes,
By the deep sea, and music in its roar:
I love not man the less, but Nature more,
From these our interviews, in which I steal
From all I may be, or have been before,
To mingle with the Universe, and feel
What I can ne'er express, yet cannot all conceal"*

MORE HOT THAN COLD!

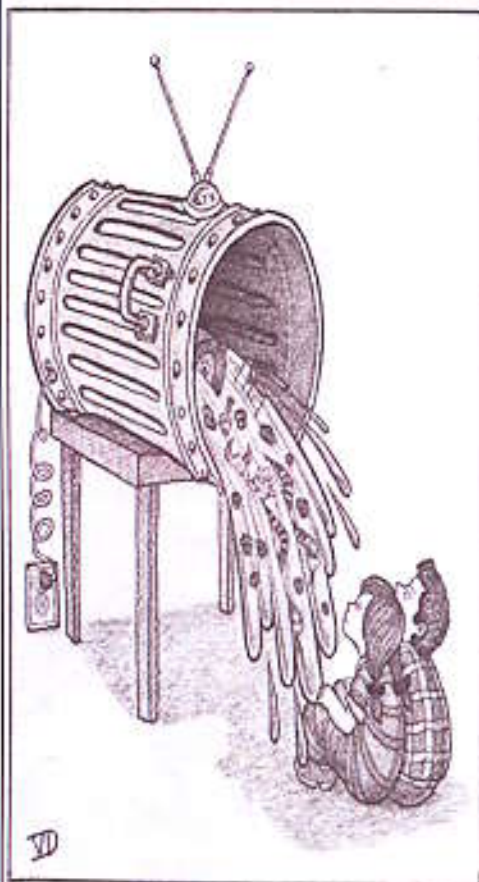

Madonna selected this 25 year old girl from Santa Barbara to be her successor as queen of pop.

But what is the secret that has made this young woman so famous in such a short time? For sure, she's not the usual Hollywood anorexic-like chick and she doesn't even spend all her life keeping up with the latest fashion. Maybe her efforts and her love for music are the real keys to her success and the reason why she is so appreciated among us teenagers. With her energetic lyrics and her sense of humour she has enchanted her audience and caught the eye of the MTV producers who asked her to host the European Music Awards. She became a multi-awarded artist and the 2008 music revelation while remembering her roots.

What do we really mean when we talk about Trash Tv?

They may be programmes which let you relax, but what about thinking? Among them the most watched and famous afternoon "chatting shows" are: "Pomeriggio 5", "Amici di Maria de Filippi", lots of MTV shows and last but by no means least there are "The Big Brother" and "Uomini & Donne" and we can't take all the dramas and soap operas off our list.

In my opinion we should admit they make up trash television as they are based on nothing, make no sense and are even an insult to the human intelligence.

Most of the adults think we spend many hours watching and enjoying them, but in truth we don't! We prefer being encouraged to develop our creativity and we refuse to believe in that strange kind of moral values TV gives us! What sort of values are there in totally-redone women or unfair men??? Please don't make any excuses saying that this is the only entertainment TV offers. Wake up and hold your remote controls, because at the end of the day we are the only ones who have to choose!
